On 8/25/75, a ranking official of the Federal Police of Argentina (FPA) Intelligence Service provided the following information regarding the recent death of Montonero leader MARCOS OSATINSKY in Cordoba: ~~(S)~~ (U)

According to the FPA delegation in Cordoba, OSATINSKY, whose Montonero code name was "SANTIAGO," was picked up approximately three weeks ago by Cordoba Provincial Police and members of Governor LACABANNE's Security Detail. OSATINSKY was severely tortured by members of Governor LACABANNE's Security Detail over an extended period of time; however, he refused to divulge any information. OSATINSKY was in such bad shape that it became obvious he would have to be killed rather than produce him alive since the marks of torture would be obvious. In order to dispose of OSATINSKY, whose detention was known among extremists in Cordoba, it was decided to stage his assassination in connection with a fictitious rescue attempt. Three Cordoba Provincial Police Officers volunteered to take part in the charade with the understanding they would have to submit to being slightly wounded during the performance. ~~(S)~~ (U)

The hijacking of the hearse transporting OSATINSKY's body from Cordoba to Tucuman was not carried out by the Montoneros as indicated in the press, but by the same members of Governor LACABANNE's Security Staff, who had tortured OSATINSKY. The purpose of stealing his body was to prevent the body from being subjected to an autopsy, which would have clearly shown that he had been tortured. It is doubtful that OSATINSKY's body will ever turn up. ~~(S)~~ (U)

Attached is a photograph of OSATINSKY taken during 1972 at Rawson Prison. ~~(S)~~ (U)

As reported in the local news media, HECTOR LUIS GARCIA REY recently mysteriously resigned as the Chief of the Cordoba Provincial Police (CPP) for "personal reasons." GARCIA REY was replaced by AMERICO ARGUELLO, a career CPP officer.

On January 13, 1975, an official of the Federal Police of Argentina (FPA) provided the following information: ~~(S)~~ (U)

According to FPA officers assigned to the staff of FPA Chief LUIS MARGARIDE, GARCIA REY traveled to Asuncion, Paraguay, on January 13, 1975, or January 14, 1975, for the purpose of personally contacting Argentine Ambassador to Paraguay, Col. (R) JORGE OSINDE. It is noted that the latter served as the FPA Director of Intelligence during the Peron Government, prior to the 1955 military coup. According to MARGARIDE's staff members, GARCIA REY's purpose in contacting OSINDE is to enlist the Ambassador's support in replacing MARGARIDE as FPA Chief. MARGARIDE's staff members advised that MARGARIDE was enraged when he learned of GARCIA REY's intentions and is extremely apprehensive that GARCIA REY might succeed in ousting him with OSINDE's backing. ~~(S)~~ (U)

[FEDERAL POLICE OF ARGENTINA] ~~(S)~~ (U)

On 1/8/75, an official of the Federal Police of Argentina (FPA), who had been assigned to the Department of Federal Security (DFS) until his recent reassignment due to promotion, provided the following personal observations regarding the DFS operations: ~~(S)~~ (U)

During the past three months young commissioned and non-commissioned FPA officers assigned to DFS have undertaken raids, kidnappings and assassinations against extremists. With increasing regularity, various groups made up of up to five DFS officers have acted independently without specific orders in carrying out raids, kidnappings and assassinations of extremists. The main purpose of these independent acts has been to secure money and valuables from leftists and extremists. A disturbing number of these young commissioned and noncommissioned officers have adopted life styles well beyond their police salaries which obviously are being supported from loot taken from extremists and leftists. Several young commissioned and noncommissioned officers have acquired expensive automobiles, have taken on mistresses which they previously could not afford to maintain, and sport expensive, flashy clothing. ~~(S)~~ (U)

The previous policy in DFS regarding currency and valuables recovered in extremist raids was to place any such proceeds in the DFS secret funds for future use in operating informants or acquiring equipment that could not be traced to the FPA. ~~(S)~~ (U)

RE: [FEDERAL POLICE OF ARGENTINA] ~~(S)~~ (U)

Should an unauthorized raid, abduction, or assassination backfire, requiring that it be officially reported, the officers involved concoct a cover story indicating that their actions resulted from information provided by an anonymous tip or from acting on their gut feeling that an individual encountered on the street might be an extremist or leftist. Because of these activities, which are increasing, the DFS professional analysis and evaluation of intelligence secured during these unauthorized raids has not been carried out due to the very nature of these activities. ~~(S)~~ (U)

Source noted that the flow of intelligence going into DFS files has slowed down to a trickle and that many of the younger commissioned and noncommissioned officers only act on information where they believe they can secure a monetary gain. The source indicated his personal opinion of this situation was that it was extremely critical since the DFS has become literally an undisciplined mob of unprincipled young commissioned and non-commissioned officers. The source stated that he is not alone in this conclusion and that several other senior responsible FPA officials believe that some form of action will have to be taken in the immediate future to restore discipline and professionalism to the DFS. ~~(S)~~ (U)
